

BURNS HAS MESSAGE OF HOPE

Celebrated Detective Declares Country is Constantly Growing Better—People Not Leaving All to the Corrupt Boss—Large Audience at Slater Hall Heard the Famous Round-up of Criminals, High and Low.

There was a large attendance at the lecture by William J. Burns at Slater hall on Friday night. In spite of the famous detective's declaration that he could not hypnotize even a cat, he seemed to hold his audience in the most intense interest throughout the evening—his rapt attention being broken only by the ripples of laughter that followed his witty sallies and the desultory applause at his conclusions.

Has a Message

Mr. Burns says that he has a message to the people of this country. He is often asked whether the country is getting better or worse. His answer is that it is better than it ever has been before and that it is getting better all the time. The reason for this is that the people are not leaving things entirely to the corrupt boss, but are taking an active interest in the government.

The responsibility of the corruption is upon the men who fail to do their duty as good citizens and to take an active interest in the government.

Corruption in San Francisco. San Francisco was the greatest example of how low and corrupt a city government could be. There the political boss had arranged things on a scientific principle to keep him in for all kinds of graft. After the five double lines of men filed into his office to ask his permission to rebuild until one day the newspapers announced that an investigation was being made. Then small pots seemed to have hit the office suddenly. The man with the lead pipe went around murdering people, finally in broad daylight. Then at last the people awoke and something was done.

Human Life Has to Pay. Human life has to be sacrificed in every instance before any reform comes to pass. Only the hundreds of lives lost on the Titanic brought steamship reform. Only the 21 souls blown into eternity by the McNamara brothers aroused people to investigate although 195 explosions had already destroyed hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property.

Mr. Burns gave thrilling stories of his adventures with crooked attorneys in the Los Angeles trial. The lies they told for effect upon the jury, the threats they made upon his life, the fees they extracted and the way they bribed and threatened witnesses show how necessary it is for all good people to support the law and uphold the officers of the law in their conflict with those people who find it necessary to the route to the well-known and is taken annually by a great many motor boatmen, sometimes in very small boats. From Miami to Key West the route is practically an inland sea on account of the numerous sand bars and islands which dot the coast. The route along the Gulf coast is more exposed, the harbors are numerous and will hear this more novel part of the trip should be completed as illustrations of the way without incurring any great danger. The party expects to be gone all winter, returning probably by steamer in the early spring. Queria II will sail under the colors of the New York Motor Boat club, of which organization Mr. Burns is a member. The Yale Corinthian Yacht club of New Haven, and the Chelsea Boat club of this city.

Graft in Philadelphia. Philadelphia has had a thirty years' fight to clean up the city, but has cleaned out the gamblers and the white slave trade.

Detroit and Atlantic City were used as illustrations of the way in which confessions are obtained, and the San Francisco supervisors of the way to trap a crook.

Breaking Down Laws in Lawrence. Lawrence is an exhibition of the way laws are broken down. We have wide open arms in this country for all law-abiding people but those who will not comply with our laws should go back to their own country or should be sent back. The laws must be preserved.

Idle vagabonds must not be allowed to live in the streets or in the houses of the future is in the young people who are making economies. The future is in the young people who are making economies. The future is in the young people who are making economies.

Human life has to be sacrificed in rained deck cruiser, having an over-all length of 27 feet, and a beam of 7 feet. She has cabin sleeping accommodations for two, and an extended cockpit which will serve as both living and sleeping room while in southern waters. This cockpit is covered with a water-proof awning and will be completely screened in against mosquitoes. Queria II is powered with a two-cylinder, two-cycle, marine motor of nine horsepower. On this cruise she will carry a light mast and emergency sail, while the equipment will be as liberal and complete for comfort and safety as possible. A novel safety precaution will be found in the hull fittings, who will ship as guardian of the peace and protector of property rights. The cruise is to be taken primarily in the interests of Motor Boating, to whose readers Mr. Burns is already known. Articles relating to the expedition will begin in the December number. Arrangements have also been made with other magazines for material of a new character and it is expected, also, that some highly unique and valuable photographs will be obtained. Mr. Loomis being an expert photographer.

The route from New York to Miami, Fla., is entirely inland, with the exception of 140 miles off the Carolina coast, and includes the waters of Delaware river, Chesapeake bay, Albemarle sound, Pamlico sound, St. John's river, Indian river, and numerous smaller lagoons, lakes and rivers. This portion of the route is well-known and is taken annually by a great many motor boatmen, sometimes in very small boats. From Miami to Key West the route is practically an inland sea on account of the numerous sand bars and islands which dot the coast. The route along the Gulf coast is more exposed, the harbors are numerous and will hear this more novel part of the trip should be completed as illustrations of the way without incurring any great danger. The party expects to be gone all winter, returning probably by steamer in the early spring. Queria II will sail under the colors of the New York Motor Boat club, of which organization Mr. Burns is a member. FUNERALS. Mrs. George Wade.

Friday, Rev. P. C. Wright conducted funeral services over the remains of Mrs. George Wade at her late residence, No. 8 Whitaker avenue.

Funeral services were held at St. Joseph's cemetery, in charge of Eugene E. Hickey.

DIED. WEINSTEIN—In Williamstown, Oct. 18, John Weinstein, aged 37 years.

Funeral services were held at St. Joseph's church at 2 o'clock. Burial in St. Joseph's cemetery, in charge of Eugene E. Hickey.

88th Birthday Anniversary. Tuesday was the 88th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Maude R. Allen, widow of Charles H. Allen. The day was remembered by her many friends who sent her flowers, post cards and numerous gifts. Mrs. Allen, who resides at 90 Williams street, is enjoying the best of health. She is the daughter of the late John Hopkins and Sally C. Hopkins and is one of three children. In 1845 she was united in marriage with Charles H. Allen. Her husband was one of the founders of the Hopkins & Allen Arms Co.

Humorists in Politics. There is some curiosity in regard to the tenor of the campaign to be made by Job Hedges, republican candidate for governor of New York. Mr. Hedges, if elected, probably would be the first humorist that ever reached the governorship of New York, but Wisconsin, which is a very serious state, had for governor the author of Peck's Bad Boy, and the late Fiddling Bob Taylor was governor of Tennessee.

The late Tom Reed of Maine was a humorist as well as a writer of witty epigrams, but who would have thought he would have some of his humorous thoughts and sayings printed, he said it would injure him with the public.

Drives Out CATARRH

No More Blowing, Snuffing or Morning Hawking to Dislodge Mucus, When You Breathe Germ Destroying HYOMEL.

HYOMEL (pronounce it High-o-me) is guaranteed to end the misery of catarrh or mucus.

Breathe it, destroy the catarrh germs, and soon hawking and snuffing will cease.

Breathe it and crusts will no longer form in the nose; mucus will no longer lodge in the throat; all inflammation will leave the membrane of the nose and throat and your head will feel clear and fine.

Breathe it for coughs, colds and sore throat; its soothing, healing, antiseptic action is better than all the stomach dosing remedies in creation.

Complete outfit which includes inhaler and bottle of HYOMEL $1.00. Extra bottles of HYOMEL 50 cents at The Lee & Osgood Co. and druggists everywhere.

To break up cold in head or chest at night or to smother quickly coming catarrh, pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEL into a bowl of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe the vapor for several minutes before going to bed.

who expected a statesman to be solemn. It is to be hoped that Mr. Hedges will be sensible enough to be natural and understand that solemnity is not his forte. If he does, his speeches will doubtless be entertaining and a witty campaigner is usually a good vote-getter.—Boston Globe.
